学習到達目標
科目の到達目標レベル	This course is designed to teach students how to communicate effectively in a number of situations that they will encounter while traveling abroad, at work or in the home. By working individually and in pairs, the students will learn natural language patterns as well as become more aware of cultural norms outside of their own. They will have opportunities to use this language with each other and with the instructor throughout the year. By the end of course, they should be confident to handle a number of situations as well as be able to talk about themselves to others.

学習上の留意点および学習上の助言
Students will be expected to bring all of their textbooks to every class as they will need them to complete oral exercises. They can bring dictionaries but they should learn not to rely on them during class. They will also be asked to do homework in the Passport Workbook. The students should expect to be asked to recite passages from their textbook when asked. Short oral exams will occur at different times throughout the year. The class will generally be conducted entirely in English.
